

• OVERVIEW

What appears to be a neutral, modern, and public-law order with administration within the state territory is in fact a construction concealed within the private domain: a hierarchically rigid, highly sophisticated legal-commercial system operating worldwide for the permanent dispossession of H U M A N B E I N G S.

The private-law use of identical name representations and similar spellings of the public-law name within the private domain enables the circumvention of public-law statehood, which leads to the loss of constitutional protection. What is, among other things, formally legally correct and lawful under the Hague Convention (HLKO) nevertheless remains morally absolutely reprehensible, immoral, and illegitimate under the eternal land peace. Through concealed contracting via/through/with/as PERSONS, H U M A N B E I N G S of all countries in the economic territories (war zones) suffer the loss of ownership and access rights to their own homeland.

What global flag control and the German legal system have to do with this worldwide legal circumstance is disclosed by L R P within the framework of the laws, with court-admissible evidence and overwhelming burden of proof.

Until 1918, H U M A N B E I N G S were legally serfs of the monarchs on land. This condition of servitude has de jure and de facto been reinstated via ownership of debtor instruments within the German merchant fleet on the high seas and anchored through the supposed voluntariness of the people. The trust system serves the accounting-based safeguarding of goods and merchandise in the event of a ship's loss along maritime delivery routes and has, since at least 1949, been globally abused for legal titles such as P E R S O N S. Since behind every legal person stands a natural person, and behind that the H U M A N B E I N G with labor power, a value exists within the title, which turns the title into a registered commercial commodity.

Names are titles—and who carries and uses the registered title? What is the purpose of the title, for what was it created? Is the title meant to accept or to issue an assignment? What dedication does the title bear? A dedication can be, for example, a birth name, a first name, or a nationality such as that of Nazi Germany in 1934, which since 1949 is codified in Article 116 (1) of the Basic Law and is, among other things, displayed as “GERMAN” on identity cards and passports. Thus, the natural person is the holder of a legal person, which commissions the war within the debtor territory, a war then executed by the contractor (politicians). The complexity of registry law, civil status, and liable ownership has been presented by L R P in several video series and can be viewed at.

The opaque double-entry bookkeeping (Doppik) of ACCOUNTS and the asset structure in the global financial system, with ASSETS and LIABILITIES, debts and wealth, credit and debit, applies to every legal person, which de facto turns all legal persons into an ACCOUNT within double-entry bookkeeping. The historically developed financial and administrative structures, through German civil status and customary international law, enforce a compulsory holder obligation via automated administrative procedures.

With the transfer of liability from the domestic legal person, which is exempt from fundamental rights under Article 19 (3) of the Basic Law, to the n a t u r a l person, the holder becomes obliged to balance private ACCOUNTS (legal persons). Collective naturalizations with compulsory holder obligations contravene international law and violate human rights at all levels.

• CONCLUSION

The n a t u r a l person, from the beginning of life, was made the holder of debtor instruments through private contracts and is legally trapped under maritime commercial law on the eternal delivery route without a destination port in the German merchant fleet, according to Article 27 of the Basic Law. As a result, the natural P e r s o n cannot use the legal person on land with creditor title and nationality under Article 116 (2), sentence 2 of the Basic Law and therefore does not receive a monthly return from the special fund. The payout area on land consists of the German States, yet the P e r s o n is located abroad on the high seas and is commercially exploited by GERMANY, Deutschland, the EU, the Federal Republic, and the Federal Republic of Germany. A destination port for the German merchant fleet is legally invisible, which establishes the eternal delivery route far from the German States.

• SOLUTIONS

THE RESIDENT APPLICATION!

Designating the locality municipality as an international peace zone through the legal resident application under Article 28 (2), sentence 1 of the Basic Law makes the creditor's payout area legally visible and accessible. Making the destination port visible ends, among other things, the worldwide legal state of war since 1914 and the legal captivity on the eternal delivery route. The financially strained district municipality becomes a federal municipality and receives federal funding. Instructions for implementing the resident application, the legal foundations, and the international flagging for the peace zone can be viewed at www.Lightrebels.net/Bundesgemeinde.html.

TRAVEL ID FOR FOREIGNERS!

The foreign status under Article 116 (2), sentence 2 of the Basic Law, in connection with § 2 (1) of the Residence Act, the renunciation of German citizenship (StAG), the asylum application for nationals in the German States (deutsche Länder), the travel document for foreigners under the Residence Regulation § 4 (1), sentence 1, No. 1, Annex D4c, and the international birth certificate as a residence title for the German economic area constitute the legal foundations for the case-by-case decision. The registered person on the travel document is the creditor and a legally protected person. Further information can be found at www.Lightrebels.net/dokumente.html.

The statutory foreign status is currently still bypassed by authorities and courts, and the issuance of the travel document as a case-by-case decision is being refused. In doing so, authorities and courts continue to apply the private-law regulation of German nationality from February 5, 1934. Attempts to achieve the individual case legally and administratively can advance with further support from participants, in order to establish the necessary precedent in the German civil status register.

NATIONALIZATION OF LANDPROPERTY!

The registration of the public-law name as the owner of the landproperty in the land registry binds the property to the federal territory. This grants the property legal protection and federal-state funding.

De jure and de facto, the land registry office, as a legal person, is the owner of the properties in the registry, since the private name, not the public-law name, is registered as the owner.

Accordingly, the property is private property of the land registry office, but through this form of nationalization it is legally secured for the possessor and user, who mistakenly considers himself the owner, and thus protected from expropriation and exempt from property tax.

THE USE OF SUBSIDIARITY!

The principles of subsidiarity and universality (from bottom to top, or higher law over lower law) can, through the legal process, bring about substantial changes at the municipal level.

Modifying the municipal code, designating the municipality, or creating an international municipal constitution—for example through the municipal assembly, resident application, or municipal council—are currently unused legal possibilities.

New articles or other legally subjective actions originating from the smallest legal unit can become pioneering and integral components with de jure and de facto application within the German legal system.

For example, a municipal constitution could define tacit action as a refusal of business and link the acceptance of business to a written or oral confirmation.

THE LEGAL FLAGGING!

The flagging of public buildings with the legal federal flag, the federal service flag of 1996, the white flag with the D designation from 1910, and the federal coat of arms from 1952. The legal representatives of the responsible persons have the legal authority to order and carry out this flagging, thereby marking the start of the return voyage of the merchant fleet, which leads to making the destination port and the legal homeland of free humanity visible. In this way, from the Reuss private domain Germany and the Federal Republic of Germany with a private low-cost flag becomes the FEDERAL REPUBLIC OF GERMANY with federal states and linkage to the German Länder. This flagging ends the worldwide legal state of war since 1914 and the continuation of the private-law coup of 1919 by the House of Reuss, by linking the peace zone—the German Länder—with the maritime commercial law structure. Accordingly, the eternal land peace applies in maritime commercial law, which removes the legal basis and legitimacy from war and war-related business.

The legal possibilities disclosed by L R P to improve the legal situation change the algorithm of the global financial and asset system as well as the administrative structure in favor of free humanity. They legally and legitimately enforce worldwide legal peace with patent release.

Only through this do inhumane actions constitute a de jure and statutory criminal offense, which can then also be pursued de facto and legally—for example: war stratagems, compulsory holder obligations, vaccinations, war, production of weapons, contrails, toxins in food, MKUltra, media consciousness manipulation, disease-inducing frequencies.

May H U M A N B E I N G S and the people understand their precarious legal situation as war contractors in the debtor territory and develop the necessary awareness and understanding to embrace the S O L U T I O N S as such.

Thank you very much for your attention.
